From: Financial Times Briefing <FT@emailbriefings.ft.com>
To: ehbarak1@gmail.com
CC:
Date: Tue, 12/16/2014 8:30:11 AM
Subject: In today's FT: FT Series: Oilâ€™s winners and losers, Moscow lifts ke...

To view this email as a webpage, click here

Tuesday December 16 2014

UK HOMEPAGE

FT Series: Oil’s winners and losers

A 40% fall in price might not be good news for global economy

Moscow lifts key interest rate to 17%

Action after rouble tumbles on fears for oil and economy

Oil price fall threatens $1tn of projects

Majors delay big-ticket production plans

VIDEO

Tanker rates flying

The rates for shipping oil in the largest tankers is rocketing as low oil prices boost demand. Lex's Oliver Ralph and Alan Livsey discuss the implications for the tanker operators and whether prices will stay this high.

US HOMEPAGE

Winners and losers of oil price plunge

Boeing dividend rise signals bullishness

25% increase in payouts accompanies new $12bn share buyback programme

Olam buys ADM's cocoa division for $1.3bn

Deal to make Singapore agribusiness one of world's top three cocoa processors

EUROPE HOMEPAGE

Gunman killed as Sydney café siege ends

Two hostages and lone gunman die as officers storm building

Google under threat of €15m fine

Dutch regulators threaten US technology group over privacy policies

Denmark lays formal claim to North Pole

Jostling over sovereignty in the Arctic heats up

ASIA HOMEPAGE

Vice eyes 2015 'deal spree' and IPO plans

Digital media group appoints M&A lawyer to oversee $500m 'war chest' for content and technology

Growth Abe's priority under new mandate

Economic improvement necessary before Japan's PM can shift focus to defence

Sony tells media to ignore hacked emails

US film unit warns of legal action in attempt to contain the damage from cyber attack

WORLD NEWS

Chevron calls off Ukraine shale project

Cancellation deals a further blow to war-torn economy

Greece warned against 'suicidal' debt move

Pierre Moscovici accused of 'conspiring' to scare voters ahead of presidential election

Renzi goes for gold with Olympic bid

Italy's PM seeks to bring the games back to Rome in 2024

Turkish lira hits low as Erdogan scolds EU

Turkey's president rejects criticism of media arrests

Jobless Spaniards to receive new benefits

Mariano Rajoy announces measures to combat long-term unemployment

COMPANIES NEWS

Dodd-Frank under fire in trading case

'Spoofing' law is vague, says lawyer for high-frequency trader

BT harks back to the future with EE offer

Telecoms group returns to mobile telephony 13 years after it quit the sector

Fare dodger banned from City posts

Ex-BlackRock executive barred after paying £43,000 to settle train fare case

Technip shares jump after deal collapses

Chief executive says group may pursue acquisitions next year, as it seeks to expand its services

MARKETS

Wall Street retreats as oil drops again

Europe gives up early gains and rouble slumps

Lower inflation expected as oil drops

Puts pressure on monetary policy makers who will miss targets

Plunging oil prices weigh on US stocks

Apache sells stake in two natural gas projects in latest example of industry cost-cutting

Falling oil prices aid coal miners

IEA expects demand growth for coal to slow

Oil retreats despite Libyan troubles

Traders refocus on Opec decision not to cut output

COMMENT

Democracy is at issue in Israel's election

The emerging clash between the Zionist ideal and democratic principles is increasingly evident

Bankers, like alcoholics, must admit to their problem

The temptation to circumvent the rules might prove irresistible, writes Philip Augar

UK election will be all about the economy

The Autumn Statement has widened the ideological choice between Tories and Labour

Ukraine needs injection of tough love

The west should make its support dependent on corruption being ended, writes Victor Pinchuk

India's women search for safe travel

The recent alleged rape of a passenger by an Uber driver highlighted the issue, writes Amy Kazmin

MANAGEMENT

The rag trade's supreme sewing machine

Juki's ubiquity in clothing factories is a Japanese success story

The pricing challenge posed by oil's fall

Too few companies know how to brace themselves for commodity turbulence

The pen is mightier than the keyboard

Old fashioned handwriting retains an allure — for good reason, it turns out

Brooklyn Roasting Company, New York

Two branches with a relaxed setting cater to start-ups in the neighbourhood's industrial spaces

Manage email | Forward this email

Feedback | Manage portfolio

Subscribe to the FT

Follow the FT

Unsubscribe | My Account | RSS | Privacy Policy | About Us | Help

© THE FINANCIAL TIMES LTD 2014

You have received this email because you have signed up from the NBE preference page.
This email was sent by a company owned by Pearson plc, registered office at 80 Strand, London WC2R 0RL.
Registered in England and Wales with company number 53723.